The Faculty of Dentistry, Dalhousie University, is seeking application for a full-time, probationary tenure-track or tenure-track Oral and Maxillofacial Radiologist at the rank of assistant or associate professor. Qualified candidates may also be considered for appointment as head of the Division of Oral and Maxillofacial Radiology in the Department of Oral and Maxillofacial Sciences.

Responsibilities will include didactic, pre-clinical, and clinical teaching in all aspects of Oral and Maxillofacial Radiology in the Faculty’s undergraduate (Dentistry and Dental Hygiene) and postgraduate programs. Additional expectations include: participation in collaborative research, continuing education, Faculty committees and administrative duties.

Candidates must have successfully completed a CODA or CDAC-accredited, specialty program in Oral and Maxillofacial Radiology. Candidates are expected to have didactic and clinical teaching experience at the undergraduate and graduate levels in Oral and Maxillofacial Radiology. Salary and academic rank will be commensurate with the successful candidate’s qualifications, experience and achievements. Successful applicants must be eligible for licensure through the Provincial Dental Board of Nova Scotia and have successfully completed the National Dental Specialty Exam in Oral and Maxillofacial Radiology administered by the Royal College of Dentists of Canada. The Provincial Dental Board of Nova Scotia does not offer academic licensure.

Private practice privilege is integrated with this appointment. Should this privilege not be exercised, the incumbent will be further assigned academic duties. Private practice opportunity is available within the Faculty’s intra-mural practice.

Dalhousie University is one of Canada’s leading teaching and research universities with four professional faculties, a Faculty of Graduate Studies and a diverse complement of graduate programs. Inter-faculty collaborative and interactive research is encouraged, as is cooperation in teaching. Dalhousie University inspires students, faculty, staff and alumni to make significant contributions regionally, nationally, and to the world.

Dalhousie University is located in Halifax, Nova Scotia, Canada. Halifax is a vibrant, capital city and is the business, academic, and medical centre for Canada’s east coast.

Review of candidates will continue until the position is filled.

Applications will be accepted until a suitable candidate is found. This position will commence July 1, 2018. Applicants should submit a letter of application (that includes a statement of the applicant’s teaching philosophy and research interests), a Curriculum Vitae, the names and contacts for three referees, and a completed Self-Identification Questionnaire (available at www.dal.ca/becounted/selfid directly to:

Dr. Debora C. Matthews, Chair
Search Committee
Faculty of Dentistry, Dalhousie University
5981 University Avenue
P.O. Box 15000
Halifax, N.S. B3H 4R2
Debora.matthews@dal.ca

GREAT CAREERS. GREAT CHOICE.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. Dalhousie University is committed to fostering a collegial culture grounded in diversity and inclusiveness. The University encourages applications from Aboriginal people, persons with a disability, racially visible persons, women, persons of minority sexual orientations and gender identities, and all candidates who would contribute to the diversity of our community.