The Department of English at Dalhousie University invites applications for a 50%, limited-term position at the rank of Assistant Professor. The position will be tenable for a ten-month term (1 August 2018 to 31 May 2019), and the successful applicant will teach two undergraduate courses in each of the fall and winter semesters.

Applicants should have a Ph.D. by the date of appointment. They should also have a record of excellence in teaching at the undergraduate level. Teaching experience in popular culture, nineteenth-century literature, and/or modernist literatures is an asset. The position is subject to budgetary approval.

Applications will be accepted until 15 May 2018 and must include the following: a letter of application addressed to Dr. Carrie Dawson, Chair of the Search Committee; a CV; a writing sample (max. 25 pp.); a teaching dossier addressing teaching effectiveness and teaching interests; and a completed Self-Identification Questionnaire (available at www.dal.ca/becounted/selfid).

Applicants must have three referees forward signed and scanned letters of reference to ENGLJOBS@dal.ca by 15 May 2018. Referees are asked to include the applicant’s name in the email subject line – e.g. “Reference for Dr J Doe.” Applications should be emailed to ENGLJOBS@dal.ca. All files should be in PDF format and should be labelled with the candidate’s name.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. Dalhousie University is committed to fostering a collegial culture grounded in diversity and inclusiveness. The University encourages applications from Aboriginal people, persons with a disability, racially visible persons, women, persons of minority sexual orientations and gender identities, and all candidates who would contribute to the diversity of our community.