

Win a scholarship to attend the 38th Annual Employee Benefits Symposium

Two lucky Dalhousie students have a chance to earn a scholarship to attend the 38th Annual ISCEBS Employee Benefits Symposium in New Orleans, Louisiana from September 8 - 11, 2019. This scholarship will cover the conference fee, hotel room, round-trip airfare, and conference meals.

WHO CAN APPLY

This opportunity is open to 3rd and 4th-year students who are thinking about entering the employee benefits industry. Students interested in risk management, insurance, actuarial science, computer science, or financial services with a specific interest in benefits (group health, life, retirement). There will also be many professional networking opportunities with Canadian and American organizations.

HOW TO APPLY

To be considered, submit a 500-word expression of interest, resume, and transcript to Shelley LaMorre at Shelley.LaMorre@dal.ca. Deadline to apply is Wednesday, May 22nd at 12 noon. Scholarship recipients must attend the entire conference and write a 500-word reflection paper on their experience.

FOR MORE INFORMATION

For more information regarding the requirements SEE NEXT PAGE

For more information on the Symposium CLICK HERE

For more information on ISCEBS check out their

Certified Employee Benefit Specialist® Program

Cosponsored by the International Foundation of Employee Benefit Plans and Dalhousie University

Student Scholarships for the 38th Annual ISCEBS Employee Benefits Symposium September 8-11, 2019 Hyatt Regency New Orleans New Orleans, LA

Opportunity

- Receive a full scholarship to attend the ISCEBS* Symposium (two students from the university.)
- Attend educational sessions presented by leaders in employee benefits, financial services, wellness, compliance, and more.
- Attend luncheons and receptions, to network with professionals in these fields as well as students attending from other universities.
- Visit with conference sponsors.
- Make connections that may jump start your future career!

Criteria

- Full time 3rd or 4th year student at the beginning of the 2019-20 academic year.
- Undergraduate and Graduate students are eligible. The scholarship is not intended for a working career professional enrolled in a graduate degree program.
- Major in a field such as risk management, insurance, actuarial science, financial services, computer science, etc. with an interest in benefits (group health, life, retirement.)
- Recommended by academic advisors and/or professors in student's major field.

Expectations

- Able to attend the entire conference (Sunday 12:00 pm through 1:00 pm Wednesday)
- Attend one session per time block, conferment ceremony, luncheons and receptions.
- Write a 500 word reflection paper on the takeaways and overall educational experience from attending the Symposium, to share with university and CEBS staff, and fellow students.
- Provide a testimonial quote for use in publications.
- Share experience via social media.
- Correspond with CEBS staff contact before, during and after the conference for the purposes of planning, orientation, Q and A, and follow up.

First Time Attendee Luncheon, 12:00 – 2:30 pm on Sunday, Sept. 8. Attendance is highly recommended!

Scholarship includes:

- Symposium registration fee
- Hotel room (Sunday, Monday, Tuesday nights)
- Round trip airfare (coach, nonrefundable), and airport/hotel transportation
- Conference meals (breakfast Monday-Wednesday, lunch Monday-Tuesday, Sunday and Monday receptions and a per diem to cover additional meal costs.)

ISCEBS—The International Society of Certified Employee Benefit Specialists is the premier professional association providing educational resources, innovative thinking and collective wisdom to help members excel and prosper in their careers in employee benefits, insurance, risk management, or human resources. Membership is open to CEBS graduates and students.

18700 West Bluemound Road, P.O. Box 1270
Brookfield, WI 53008-1270 USA
Telephone (262) 786-6700 | Fax (262) 786-8670
E-mail: cancebs@ifebp.org | www.cebs.org

